

Smarter Balanced Interim Assessment and M-STEP Concordance Table

Example 1

This concordance table compares the scale score ranges from the Smarter Balanced Interim Assessments and the M-STEP ELA and Math assessments. Although the M-STEP assesses the same content as the Smarter Balanced assessments, the M-STEP scale scores have been converted. The table shows an estimate for how students might perform on one test based on results from the other. As an example, a 3rd grade student scoring a 2112 on the Smarter Balanced Comprehensive Interim ELA test (Performance Level 1) could score a 1203 (Performance Level 1) on the M-STEP ELA assessment. Please keep in mind that a concordance table such as this is not a perfect prediction. Additional blueprint information can be found at XXXXXX.

Smarter Balanced Interim Assessment and M-STEP Concordance Table

The Smarter Balanced Interim Assessments and the M-STEP assessments use similar scale score ranges. Even though the M-STEP assesses the same content as the Smarter Balanced assessments, the M-STEP scale scores have been converted. The Smarter Balanced interim assessments are still roughly predictive of how a student may score on the M-STEP Math and ELA assessments. Below you'll find a few examples.

Smarter Balanced to M-STEP: Score Comparison Examples

Different tests, different scales—scores are not the same, but performance levels can be.

EXAMPLE 1 3rd Grade Student – ELA

A 3rd grade student scoring a 2112 on the Smarter Balanced Comprehensive Interim ELA test (Performance Level 1) could score a 1203 (Performance Level 1) on the M-STEP ELA test.

EXAMPLE 2 7th Grade Student – Math

A 7th grade student scoring a 2777 on the Smarter Balanced Comprehensive Interim Math test (Performance Level 4) could score a 1752 (Performance Level 4) on the M-STEP Math test.

Key Takeaway: Scores are reported on different scales, so the numbers will be different. What matters most is the performance level.
